

Summit ENT

Stanford
HEALTH CARE
STANFORD MEDICINE

Heather Little, Au.D.

Audiologist

Dr. Heather Little, a San Francisco native, is a certified member of the American Speech-Language & Hearing Association, a fully qualified member of the New Zealand Audiological Society, as well as the California Speech-Language Pathology, Audiology and Hearing Aid Dispensers Bureau.

She provides the full range of services to adult, geriatric and pediatric patients by performing both conventional and advanced diagnostic measures of the hearing and balance or vestibular systems. She has expertise in selecting, fitting, adjusting and verifying all manufacturers of state of the art hearing aids as well as non-conventional amplification devices.

In her spare time, she enjoys running, backpacking, cooking, traveling as well as spending time with her family who still reside in San Francisco.

EDUCATION & TRAINING

- Cal. State University Sacramento, Speech Pathology and Audiology, Bachelor and Master of Science
- Salus University, Doctorate of Audiology