

Stanford
HEALTH CARE
STANFORD MEDICINE

Hamed Sajjadi, MD, FACS

Otolaryngology

Dr. Hamed Sajjadi is double board certified in Otolaryngology and Neurotology/Skull Base Surgery. His philosophy is to treat every patient with utmost compassion and to deliver state-of-the-art medical care tailored to the patient's needs and wishes.

Dr. Sajjadi has been involved in teaching of Otolaryngology/Neurotology continuously since finishing his fellowship training in 1986. He is Clinical Associate Professor in the department of Otolaryngology-HNS at Stanford Medicine. He is also the chief of division of Neurotology at the Palo Alto Veterans Administration Hospital.

Dr. Sajjadi is married to Azar, they have four adult children. He is an avid Mountain Biker, downhill skier, car enthusiast, and private pilot.

EDUCATION & TRAINING

- Creighton University School of Medicine, Omaha, NE, Medical Degree
- King Drew /UCLA Medical Center, Internship and Residency; Otolaryngology
- Paparella Ear, Head & Neck Institute, Fellowship; Neurotology

San Jose Ear and Sinus Medical Center services:

We're a full service Ear and Sinus Center providing highly specialized, quality care on the campus of Good Samaritan Hospital in the South Bay in San Jose, California.

- Minimally Invasive Endoscopic Ear Surgery with innovative approaches to treat ear disease
- Endoscopic Eustachian tube dilation for chronic ear fullness and or infections
- Hearing Aid, Hearing Implants, and Cochlear implant services
- Minimally invasive Endoscopic Sinus Surgery with newest technologies with balloon sinus surgery and drug eluting stent implants
- Skull base tumors including Pituitary tumors and Acoustic Neuroma

We also have full service audiological services for diagnostic testing and balance treatment and hearing aid dispensing.

San Jose Ear and Sinus Medical Center

2577 Samaritan Drive

Suite 845

San Jose, CA 95124

tel: 408.358.8507

Fax: 408.358.8506

stanfordhealthcare.org/sjeas

Stanford
HEALTH CARE
STANFORD MEDICINE